

Big or small we feed them all!

Since our inception in 1938, Central Connecticut Cooperative Farmers Association (CCC) has grown to serve the region as the premier provider of feeds for all types of livestock, poultry, equine and other companion animals. We understand the unique demands of the industry, and we provide the products and services necessary to run a successful and healthy animal operation.

CCC is the only farmer-owned-and-operated feed mill in New England and eastern New York. Our customer base not only consists of large farming operations, but we also serve the backyard farmer as well as retail dealers. No matter what size or breed, "Big or small we feed them all."

Ruminant Feeds – our nutritionally balanced ruminant formulas are designed to help ensure that your animals have reached their full genetic potential.

Our finished feeds are all-natural with no preservatives, and are available in a variety of forms, designed to meet your individual needs. From bulk delivery to customer pickup, and a wide variety of bagged feeds, our feeds can be custom formatted to meet your financial and nutritional needs. Some of our feeds include:

Equinator Feeds – a complete line of pelleted horse feed for all stages of your horses life. The Equinator line has been scientifically formulated to ensure your horse is getting all the vitamins, minerals and other nutrients needed to grow and remain healthy.

Poultry Feeds – whether you purchase a custom formulation or one of our stock feeds for your poultry, game bird or waterfowl operation; all of our poultry feeds are formulated with the specific amino acids essential for healthy feathers, optimal growth, egg production, hatchability and quality meat.

Whether it be providing the nutrients necessary for efficient growth and wool potential, or maximizing milk and meat production—all our feeds are formulated to support optimum rumen function. Our nutritionists can customize a feed program that fits your needs and improves your profitability.

By partnering with the most respected manufacturers in the industry, CCC is able to provide the tried-and-true products you count on to round out your operational needs, while remaining competitive.

As your total farm feed solution, we have the experience, products and services our community relies on to grow and prosper, whether for our local farmers or our next door neighbors.

BIO-CHLOR®:

A palatable anion source, proven to effectively lower DCAD levels, reduce incidence of metabolic disorders and increase peak milk.

Supplier of Yeast Culture (Diamond V XP, XPC, Diamune and XP DFM) used in any livestock and pet foods to improve digestion and enhance animal well being.

Chromium Propionate:

Kemin Agri. Food's FDA approved Chromium source for cattle and swine.

FERMENTEN®:

Promotes rumen health and stability to optimize feed efficiency. This translates to improved volumetric growth in the heifer pen and improved milking string performance.

AmmoCurb:

A source of dry granular or liquid buffered propionic acid that is used to preserve feed and TMR's against molds and other spoilage organisms.

DCAD Plus®:

Delivers the potassium cows need to thrive, and is proven to increase dry matter intake and milk production by promoting positive DCAD levels during lactation.

In an effort to meet our customer's needs, we are pleased to offer CCC Feeds and Farm Supplies and CCC Farm Stand and Market to complement our feed mill. Our retail store carries a full line of feeds and grains as well as other pet care products and livestock supplies. In addition, our farm stand provides an outlet for farmers to sell their product and allows customers to purchase Connecticut grown and manufactured products.

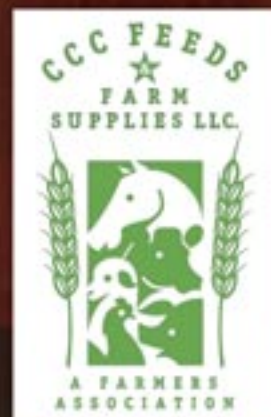

We believe the future of agriculture will be determined by the diversification and continued existence of all types and sizes of farms. We look forward to getting to know your operation and helping to improve your profitability and sustainability.
